DANIELSON

Following a meeting of the directors of the Danielson Trust company, it was announced that a semi-annual dividend had been declared at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum and that a substantial amount had been added to surplus. Treasurer C. H. Starkweather, also announced that the savings department, established last fall, now has deposits of $175,500.

Her great number of friends here will learn with delight that Sister Mary Carmella of St. Joseph's convent will not lose the sight of one eye, as seemed to be very probable during the late winter and spring. Sister Carmella has been a patient at St. Francis' hospital in Hartford for several months, going from St. Joseph's convent here in the early part of the year to receive treatment for an eye trouble that became aggravated during December.

At Hartford in April a celebrated eye specialist declared that Sister Carmella's eye trouble was incurable and decided at the present time the danger from the eye trouble has been entirely removed, and Sister Carmella is profoundly grateful.

Sister Carmella, at different periods, has been a teaching sister in St. James' parochial school through a period of nearly a quarter of a century. Hundreds of Danielson residents who have had the benefit of her skillful instruction and the advantages of studying under such a charming personality will share in her great pleasure over the saving of her sight.

Danielson and all of the surrounding country was placarded with a circus poster advertising Tuesday in advance of the coming of the largest circus that has been bood for this town in a dozen or fifteen years. The coming of the circus has been hailed with such pleasure as to indicate that the population hereabout is hungry for a big top attraction.

At the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam Dr. O. C. Sharpe was said Tuesday to be making slow progress toward recovery. It appears that Dr. Sharpe's injuries have been a great strain upon his strength and that a long period of convalescence must precede his restoration to health. He was injured early this month when a limb fell upon him from a tree at the home of Mrs. Frank Swales, almost across the highway from his own home in the Westfield section of the town.

Captain F. O. Arrington and other officers of the service battery are at an officers' school this week prior to going to Camp Eustis, Va., where the entire membership of the battery at the end of this week. Company members are now engaged with final preparations for their departure on a tour of duty that will extend to July 15.

Baseball playing in the streets—even streets that are part of trunk line highways adds another worry to the troubles of operators of motor vehicles in Danielson. This practice of ball playing in the streets is forbidden by law. Indulgence in it is a reckless invitation to accident. Not only are children engaging in this dangerous pastime, but in some cases adults also. A request will be filed with the police to have the practice stopped.

The advance guard of Danielson's berry pickers is now advancing into the berrying grounds in the hope of getting an early supply of materials for canning or immediate use. Few berries have ripened as yet, the early pickers say, but there is an abundance in sight for early July, the prospective crop being the most bounteous in years, as against last year's great dearth of berries and small fruits.

Scores of children are expected to gather at Davis park this (Wednesday) afternoon at four o'clock—and there will be no object if hundreds come to join in the Junior Chautauqua parade, introducing the annual Chautauqua period to Danielson.

R. L. Walton, Chautauqua representative who will organize and direct the parade of the little folks, was busy with his plans for the event during Tuesday.

Mr. Walton has trunks full of costumes for the children who are coming to participate in the parade, but he is willing that such costumes as children may have and would prefer to wear be used.

The parade will be a joyous event for the children, who are showing much interest. Mr. Walton says that all are welcome to join in—the more the merrier. There is room for all the people, he says, and the plans for the parade are such as to tempt about every active youngster in the borough to be on hand for the event. Chautauqua committees here are hustling now on the eve of the Chautauqua period to insure the success of this year's plans and to arouse the enthusiasm that is necessary to bring Chautauqua here again next year. It has been hinted that any material deficit this year may be the cause of abandoning Chautauqua programs for Danielson during the summer of 1923, but earnest workers are hopeful of avoiding that contingency. However, the matter is entirely up to the public and the next few days will tell the story.

Nearly 100 Elks who are members of Putnam lodge will be in Putnam a week from Friday night to attend Danielson-Moosup night at the Elks' fair, an open air carnival. The same night will be Mardi Gras night.

At St. Joseph's church in Dayville Tuesday morning Miss Pauline Harriet Caffery of Attawapung and a teacher in the schools of Stafford Springs, was united in marriage with Robert Jordan Torrey of Putnam.

Mrs. George Tucker and George Tucker, Jr., with Edward Higgins and Miss Annie Connelley motored to Newmarket, N. H., with Mr. Tucker, stopping at Boston, Revere Beach, after spending a month with Mrs. Tucker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Higgins at Elmville.

Supt. Leon M. Farrin of the schools of Killingly is to attend sessions of a Harvard summer school if he can arrange his work here to allow of his departure in time.

Mrs. Margaret McDermott of High street is showing some improvement at St. Vincent's hospital in Worcester, where she has been a patient for several weeks. Mrs. McDermott's condition, it is hoped, will improve sufficiently to allow of her being removed to her home.

Warden and Mrs. W. A. Burrows left Tuesday for Oakland beach, where they spend practically all of each summer. Mr. Burrows returning here for week ends.

Miss Irma Perry is visiting at Oakland beach, where she will remain during the month of July.

It is expected that the new state highway running to the Rhode Island line will be open as far east as A. E. Hall's place near the foot of South Killingly hill early in July.

Meetings of interest to stockholders of the Connecticut Mills company were held Monday in Boston.

Arthur A. Revelle of Pawtucket was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Tuesday.

Picnic parties are to be found almost daily now at Alexander's lake. On Tuesday a party of Danielson people were at the resort for an outing.

The pressure of northbound travel from New York through this territory to Maine summer resorts is making itself felt this week and will culminate in what is expected to be the heaviest northward movement of the season the latter part of this week. Bar Harbor expresses are running with extra sections nights this week.

Foundation walls are being laid for a bungalow to be erected by William J. Ross on Broad street, just north of his present home. Mr. Ross will occupy the bungalow when it is completed.

Some members of Rose of Lima council, K. of C., will go to North Grovesendale Thursday evening to witness the conferring of the third degree upon a class of St. Bernard's council.

A practice of picketing bulls beside highways in this section is arousing criticism of travelers who fear these animals. The practice is not general, but is indulged in by a few farmers.

PUTNAM

Putnam's fire department will be equipped with a new Packard chemical and ladder truck in from 60 to 90 days. This was announced Tuesday afternoon following the opening of bids to supply the city with such a piece of apparatus.

Mayor Archibald MacDonald and members of the special committee that has been investigating as to purchasing the apparatus being present.

The bids were as follows: Packard, $7,500; White, $7,500; LaFrance, $7,200; Seagrave, $9,000; Maxim, $7,500.

Byron D. Bugbee, representing the Packard company and to whom the contract was awarded, said that this city will have one of the finest chemical and ladder trucks that has ever come into this section of the country. The big machine, having a wheel base of 228 inches, will be fully equipped—chemical tank and hose, ladders, bars, axes, picks and much other minor apparatus being included. The ladders are to be built by the Compination Ladder company of Providence, makers of unusually fine equipment for such trucks.

The longest ladder will be a 55-foot extension, while a variety of other lengths of ladders to suit about every conceivable need will be included on the big machine, which will be outfitted with the big motor such as the Packard company puts into its 5-ton trucks.

The truck may be received here as early as the latter part of August, but this cannot be definitely stated at this time, but assurance is given that the truck will be here not later than October 1.

Ninety-six applications have been received so far for admission to the E. M. C. A. summer camp to open at Black of next week. Application continue to come in from day to day, Secretary J. H. Corbett said Tuesday, and it is expected that the camp will be filled to its capacity of 125 by the time the boys assemble next Wednesday morning.

These are days of hustle and bustle at the camp, for much remains to be done to whip the camp site into first class condition before the advent of the young enthusiasts, representatives of many towns and cities in Hartford, Tolland and Windham counties, as well as of other distant points in the state.

Secretary Corbett was clad in working togs Tuesday as he talked about the final rush of preparations for receiving the boys. "We need more help at the camp," he said, "and anyone who is interested in the Y. M. C. A. and has the time, inclination and capacity for doing some carpentry work can help us out wonderfully by coming to the camp and doing some voluntary work. A man need not be an expert carpenter. If he will just bring along a hammer and saw and assist in building tents and in doing other such work, he will help us amazingly and contribute something toward the establishment of a camp that is going to prove a great benefit to the hundreds of boys who will use it during the summer period."

The barn that the camp is being put in improved condition, rafts and floats are being built and bunks made ready for use. There are five boats and five canoes at the camp at the present time.

Many of the boys who are going to be in camp will come from their home towns in automobiles, while others will arrive in this city on trains and will be taken to the present camp point.

Putnam has an enthusiastic group of boys anxious for the opening of the camp, and so has about every other town in this territory.

An appeal will be taken to the supreme court in the case of Oscar Rich vs. Jesse Rich, it was stated here by the defendant Tuesday, following the announcement of a verdict by Judge L. P. Waldo Marvin in favor of the plaintiff.

It is expected that the case can be made ready for argument at the fall term of the supreme court.

The Elks' fair will be inaugurated next Monday evening with what promises to be one of the most interesting parades Putnam has seen in some time. Members of Willimantic lodge of Elks will be special guests of the evening, and they will join in the parade, scheduled to pass through a number of the principal streets of the city.

Charles A. Thayer is to be marshal of the parade and the Manhasset band will do escort duty.

The fair will furnish Putnam people with plenty of diversion for the holiday, for an all day program has been arranged.

Webster and North Grovesendale night is to be observed Wednesday evening of next week. Elks from these communities are coming here with their own band and will parade. The Webster Elks propose to introduce a few novelties which will entertain the crowds.

Thursday will be governor's night and Governor Everett J. Lake will be the guest of honor. This night is to be marked by another big parade, in which American Legion members will act as escort for the governor. Governor Lake will be the guest of Major Silas M. Wheelock, member of his staff, during his stay in this city.

Friday evening, July 7, will be Mardi Gras night at the fair—and also Danielson and Moosup night, a combined event

Several other matters were put over until the next meeting for final action. Those present were: E. C. Rogers, D. J. Byrne, Charles A. Richard, William E. Moss, Miss Katherine Byrne, G. Harold Gilpatrick, Frank F. Russell, Oscar Dugas, Charles A. Thayer, Otto E. Wulf, Charles E. Dean, Walter J. Bartlett, Secretary Horation Brown and Assistant Secretary Joseph L. Ryan.

Rev. F. W. Shorter of Columbia, Mo., is to preach again at the Second Congregational church in this city at next Sunday morning's services. Rev. and Mrs. Shorter and his bride are visiting in Putnam. Rev. Mr. Shorter is regarded as a favorite prospect for a call to become pastor here to succeed Rev. Boynton Merrill, now at the Old South church, Boston.

Members of Carrell council, K. of C., are interested in the announcement that a third degree is to be conferred upon a class of candidates of St. Bernard council at North Grovesendale Thursday evening of this week. A large delegation of members of the local council will witness the working of the degree, which likely will be the last for a number of weeks in this territory.

George E. Shaw underwent an operation at the hospital.

Strand—Thursday, Friday, Saturday

"The Beautiful Liar," an Associated First National production starring Katharine MacDonald, the "American Beauty of the screen," is to be the attraction at the Strand theatre for three days, starting on Thursday. The picture is acknowledged to be the best that this talented actress has produced thus far.

"The Beautiful Liar" depicts the adventures and misadventures which befell Helen Haynes, a stenographer, when she yielded to temptation and agreed to impersonate an actress, Elsie Parmelee. Her motives were pure, for in doing so she would be able to save Gaston Allegretti, manager of a famous summer resort hotel, from bankruptcy. And all that she was to get out of it was a two weeks' vacation at the hotel.

She did not know that the actress who was expected to play the part in the play, and she was on the verge of fleeing when she discovered that she was expected to do so. A delightful holiday outing. Two hours in Newport.

covered that Bobby Bates with whom she had fallen in love—to his ignorance—was to play the part of the leading man. That caused her to change her mind rapidly and she continued her impostor role.

The sudden return of the real Elsie Parmelee provided complications which neither Helen nor the others in the plot had anticipated. But eventually matters were straightened out and Helen did not regret having taken part in the conspiracy, for through it she found true love and happiness.

Miss MacDonald plays both roles—that of the stenographer and the actress—in the play, and does it with her customary consummate skill. Supporting her are such notable players as Charles Meredith, Joseph J. Dowling, Kate Lester and Wilfred Lucas.

The authorship of "The Beautiful Liar" is credited to George Marion, Jr.

A Lehrman comedy called "Belle of Alaska" furnishes plenty of laughs and a Selznick News completes the programme.

Rainfall for Last Week—Flood.

The ability of raisins to revitalize the system with almost instant energy, through their sugar content, makes them an ideal warm weather food, according to reports from Fresno, California—the raisin capital of the world.

For that reason raisin foods of all kinds should be most plentiful throughout the summer. Many every-day meals are composed of plain foods that can be made doubly attractive and healthful by the addition of this luscious California fruit.

The most popular dish of the summer—ice cream—which, flavored with raisins, is not only a cooling confection, but one that helps to take away the heat and the discomfort of summer.

The cooling qualities of ice cream are but a temporary relief, it is pointed out. Combined with the delicious flavor of raisins, it is truly a delightful, healthful dish.

The sugar in raisins is in practically predigested form, and is turned into energy almost immediately. This revitalizing quality of the raisin makes this fruit-food a boon to warm weather fatigue and listlessness.

Other foods than ice cream gain in taste and health-benefit when flavored with raisins. The ordinary loaf of white bread is changed to a delightful favorite in almost every household by the simple addition of raisins. The luscious sugar-sauce flows from the raisins into the dough during the baking, giving the whole loaf a most delicious flavor.

The iron-content of raisins, long admitted to exceed that of other fruits is a blood-builder, needed in summer and winter alike, in easily assimilable form.

It has been noted recently that business men, who must necessarily maintain their vitality during the sweltering days of June, July, August and September, to a large degree eat some of the many raisin foods with an ice-cold glass of milk, for their luncheon. Since the recent advent of the popular five-cent package of raisins, procurable almost anywhere, these same business men are often seen nibbling the little "sugars" in mid-afternoon.

A raisin product at least once a day, and preferably at noon when the sun is hottest, will work wonders in restoring depleted energy during the summer months.

Danielson Chautauqua

Danielson's Chautauqua season will open Friday and extend through to July 5, affording this year a more varied and attractive program of entertainments probably than in any previous year.

There are to be eighteen events in the afternoon and evening program of music, entertainments and lectures. Enthusiasm is being shown over the program.

On the opening day there will be a lecture by Dr. L. G. Herbert and concert by the College Singing Girls, five talented and versatile young ladies, especially chosen.

The Clarke Concert company is another organization of musicians—who will delight the Chautauqua audiences in Danielson this year. This music treat is scheduled for the third day of Chautauqua.

Tableaux Vivants is another great feature this year and will delight those who are present on the fourth day. Included in the list of lecturers for Danielson is Dr. Frank Bohn, acquainted at first hand with social and economic conditions here and abroad.

The play that will be offered to Chautauqua in Danielson this year is "Turn to the Right," described as the comedy that will live forever.

The Boston Little Symphony orchestra is another attraction scheduled for Danielson and in the list of entertainers is Helen Waggoner, reader.

Season tickets are $3.00 this year and are now on sale at the Danielson Trust company and at the Brooklyn Savings bank in Danielson.
